

Warren Triennial Prize and Symposium

Cancer Immunotherapy

Wednesday, April 5, 2017
Massachusetts General Hospital
Simches Research Building, Room 3.110

The Warren Triennial Prize was first given in 1871 in honor of Dr. John Collins Warren, founding member and first surgeon-in-chief of the Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH). Dr. Collins played a key role in establishing the journal now known as the New England Journal of Medicine - first published in 1812, and took part in the first public demonstration of ether anesthesia in what is now known as the Ether Dome at the MGH in 1846.

The goal of the Warren Prize is to recognize pre-eminent leaders of science whose work is expected to have a major impact on the future of medicine. Between 1871 and 2014, the Warren Prize has been awarded on 42 occasions to 72 recipients. Twenty-three of these individuals have also received the Nobel Prize (which was first presented in 1901).
